

International Workshop

Clustering: Automated Order in the Social Sciences

IFK, Reichsratsstraße 17
(Ground Floor)
1010 Vienna

28-29
November
2024

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 2024

13:00
Introduction

13:20 Evangelos Pournaras (Leeds)
Privacy as a Collective Value and how to Protect it in the Era of AI
Chair: Anna Echterhölter (Vienna)

Panel I
Chair: Jens Schröter (Bonn)

14:30 Fabian Retkowsky (Karlsruhe)
and Andreas Sudmann (Bonn)
Automated Coding: Multilabel-Classification in Ethnography

15:00 Andreas Sudmann and Jens Schröter (Bonn)
AI in Science and Epistemic Media

Panel II
Chair: Clemens Apprich (Vienna)

16:00 Fenwick McKelvey (Montreal)
US Elections and the Electric Cluster Making Machine

16:30 Orit Halpern (Dresden)
Mirror Worlds: Clustering, AI, and the Management of Catastrophe

17:00 Aaron Gluck-Thaler (Harvard)
Identification through Pattern Recognition in Cold War America

18:00 Rebecca Lemov (Harvard)
History of Sentiment Analysis
Chair: Markus Ramsauer (Vienna)

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 2024

Panel III
Chair: Sarah Davies (Vienna)

09:00 Dinah Pfau (Munich)
Epistemology of a Matrix, or How Communication Technology Invented the Human

09:30 Eva-Maria Gillich (Bielefeld)
Norms out of Patterns

10:00 Tobias Matzner (Paderborn)
On some Similarities between Clustering and Embeddings

Panel IV
Chair: Christian Dayé (Graz)

11:00 Phoebe Moore (Leicester)
Affective Computing at Work: Policy Provocations and Rights for the Left

11:30 Rudolf Seising (Munich)
Fuzzy Sets and Systems: An Alternative Approach to Blur and Inaccuracy for AI in the 20th century

The workshop can also be attended online.
See Website for Zoom Link:
<https://automated-order.univie.ac.at>

Organized by Anna Echterhölter and Markus Ramsauer in cooperation with the working group
“How is AI Changing Science”, University of Vienna, and the International Research Center for Cultural Studies (IFK)

